The 35th Taipei International Food Show

Taiwan Pavilion Overview

At the 2025 Food Taipei, the Ministry of Agriculture presented the Taiwan Pavilion with the theme “Elevating Taste, Sharing with the World.” Bringing together over 93 premium domestic exhibitors, the pavilion is organized into five main exhibition zones: Exquisite Agricultural Products, Livestock and Poultry Zone, Seafood Zone, Prepared Foods Zone, and Rural Good Products Zone. Together, these zones highlight the diversity of Taiwan’s agricultural offerings, reinforce the value chain, and support expansion into global markets.

The Exquisite Agricultural Products Zone features a wide range of processed goods such as high-quality tea, fruits, rice-based products, and honey, emphasizing natural, healthy, and environmentally friendly production values. The Livestock and Poultry Zone showcases meat, eggs, dairy, and related processed products, reflecting Taiwan’s steady advancements in breeding and processing technologies. The Seafood Zone highlights Taiwan’s rich marine and aquaculture resources, including milkfish, white shrimp, and mackerel, along with shelf-stable processed goods, demonstrating achievements in sustainability and traceability.

The Prepared Foods Zone demonstrates Taiwan’s innovative strengths in agricultural processing, offering a variety of specialty prepared foods derived from local ingredients – such as chicken essence, ready-to-eat packs, mushroom chicken, popcorn chicken, and soy-marinated soft-boiled eggs. These products are certified under traceability systems (Traceability Agriculture Products, TAP), CAS, and food safety standards, combining exceptional taste with trusted quality, and are well-received in both domestic and international markets. The Rural Good Products Zone showcases creative products developed by local rural communities using native materials, reflecting the vitality and cultural depth of Taiwan’s countryside.

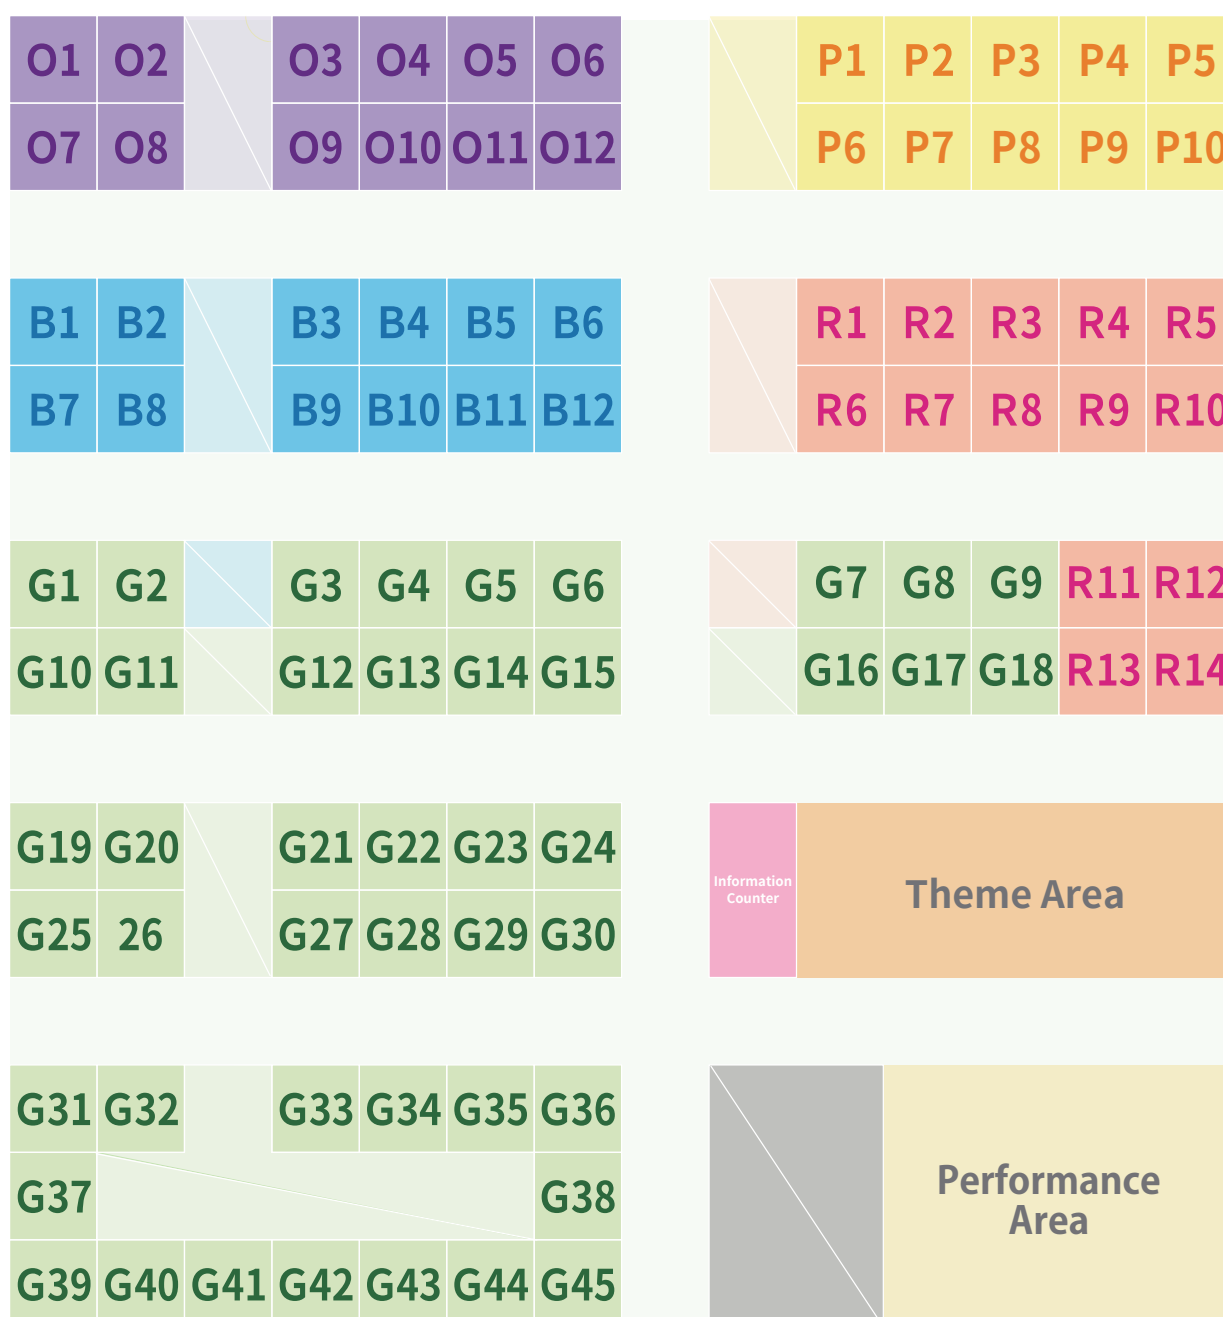

A dedicated Thematic Showcase Zone also highlights Taiwan’s achievements in international agri-food marketing and quarantine efforts. Industry professionals and the public are warmly invited to visit and witness Taiwan’s upgraded agricultural innovation and explore new global business opportunities.

Taiwan's unique geographical and climatic conditions allow for the year-round production of a wide range of fresh, high-quality vegetables, fruits, mushrooms, rice, tea, honey, and grains. Leveraging advanced equipment and exceptional processing techniques, local food producers create an array of specialty agricultural products that cater to diverse consumer needs.

The Taiwan Pavilion's Exquisite Agricultural Products Zone features 45 exhibitors showcasing a variety of products, including fresh vegetables and fruits, frozen produce, Taiwan tea, coffee, honey products, fruit fillings, dried fruits, fruit vinegars, soy milk, plum-based items, rice products, grain-based processed foods, and organic agricultural goods. International buyers and consumers interested in natural, healthy, and safe food options are invited to visit and explore business opportunities.

CHIO HU ENTERPRISE CO., LTD.

In recent years, the demand for health and wellness products among Taiwanese consumers has been steadily increasing, making black garlic a popular choice for health-conscious individuals.

Chio Hu Enterprise Co., Ltd., leveraging over 20 years of experience in garlic wholesale and distribution, has dedicated significant effort to researching black garlic. The company carefully selects fresh garlic that has obtained SGS certification and traceability certification. Using a high-temperature, high-humidity fermentation process combined with the latest aging technology, they produce high-quality black garlic products.

Fang Rong Rice Factory

Fang Rong Rice Factory was established in 1926. The current torchbearer is the fourth-generation owner, Chang Po-liang. Encouraged by his father, he gave up his hardware business to return to his hometown and help manage the declining rice factory. He firmly believed that "delicious rice" was the primary goal, and he diligently researched milling techniques, becoming renowned in the market for his high-quality rice.

In 2005, in response to the structural transformation of Taiwan's agricultural sector, Fang Rong actively invited 90 local farmers from Houbi to jointly form the "Fang Rong Rice Production and Marketing Professional Zone." With the highly knowledgeable elder Huang Kun-bin as their leader, they collectively promoted the premium rice brand, "WuMiLe," to enhance competitiveness. The following year, elder Huang Kun-bin gloriously won the "National Rice Grand Championship!" By thriving and coexisting with farmers, sharing profits equally, and working together for mutual benefit, Taiwan's agriculture can become even more competitive.

The rice factory insists on drying harvested paddy on the same day it's acquired. All paddy, brown rice, and white rice are stored under full refrigeration, and vacuum packaging is used to reduce air contact, thereby maintaining the freshness of the rice grains. Our goal is to provide consumers with the best and most stable quality rice to enhance the rice consumption habits of the Taiwanese people!

Young Sun Frozen Foods Co., Ltd.

Young Sun Frozen Foods Co., Ltd. was established in 1974, processing and exporting frozen vegetables and aquatic products to Japan and started to focus on frozen vegetables since 1988.

Currently we manage a farmland of about 600 acres and implement mechanized cultivation from land preparation, sowing, to harvesting. The whole process from harvesting to the completion of processing is less than 6 hours, in order to keep the freshness and natural flavor intact, and the products are fully traceable. We harvest about 12,000 MT of edamame per year, and currently our main markets are Japan, US, Europe, Middle East and Taiwan.

"Integrity is our operating philosophy, not only to produce stable product quality but also to ensure food safety, allowing consumers to eat with "peace of mind", and through the improvement of processing procedure and product innovation to achieve sustainable development.

SEAFOOD PRODUCTS ZONE

Surrounded by the ocean on all sides, Taiwan boasts exceptional natural conditions and abundant fishery resources. To safeguard these valuable resources, Taiwan is dedicated to fostering a sustainable aquaculture environment. The government continually improves aquaculture and processing technologies while supporting the development of fishing communities and stimulating the growth of the fishing economy, thus enhancing Taiwan's global reputation in the industry.

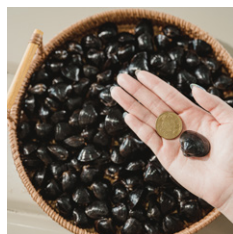

This zone carefully selects 12 top-tier vendors, showcasing a wide range of domestic aquatic products, including clams, black clams, milkfish, grouper, golden pompano, white shrimp, threadfin, cuttlefish, and mackerel, along with ambient-temperature processed goods such as black clam oil, fish essence, shrimp powder, mackerel stock powder, and threadfin crackers. In recent years, the government has focused on product diversification, refinement, energy-saving measures, and food safety. Promoting traceability certification and stringent hygiene inspections ensures consumers enjoy safe products that meet international market standards. International buyers and consumers are warmly invited to visit and explore business opportunities.

Tongli Seafood Enterprise C.O.

Tongli Seafood Enterprise C.O. specializes in the cultivation and sale of clams and black clams. We are a self-produced and self-marketed brand originating from Changhua, Taiwan.

We are the only shellfish producer in Taiwan to hold three high-standard certifications: Aquaculture Stewardship Council (ASC) for sustainable aquaculture, Organic Aquaculture Product, and Traceable Agriculture Products (TAP).

With three generations and over sixty years of clam farming experience, we began cultivating the Japanese Yamato clam in 2001, becoming the largest exporter of this variety to Japan. Our clam and black clam farming area spans 70 hectares, with an annual production of 2.5 million Taiwan catties.

We are dedicated to promoting Changhua's aquatic products and sharing the unwavering commitment of our fishermen to both product quality and environmental sustainability. From supporting local fishermen and ensuring food safety for consumers to fostering environmental education, we strive to drive the economic development and rejuvenation of fishing villages, thereby promoting local revitalization.

Sun Young Frozen Food Co., Ltd.

Meticulously selected from Yong'an's local saltwater aquaculture farms, Sun Young Frozen Food brings you the finest Tiger Grouper. All of our products are certified under rigorous ISO22000 and HACCP food safety and hygiene management standards, as well as undergoing quarterly laboratory testing to monitor for animal drug safety.

Utilizing a low-temperature portioning method in the production process, the tiger groupers are made into fish fillets. Ensuring that our tiger groupers are virtually boneless for ease of consumption, a thorough "three-removal" process (scales, guts, and gills removed) is applied before being vacuum-packed for effortless preparation at home.

Be prepared to be captivated by the tiger grouper's firm and delicate meat! When pan-fried, the skin develops a rich, succulent fattiness without the raw taste, only pure, fresh sweetness, a quality that has earned us widespread praise.

Tainan City Fishermen's Association

The jurisdiction of Tainan City Fishermen's Association spans across Tainan City's Annan, Anping, South, North, West Central and East Districts, encompassing a picturesque coastline stretching approximately 22 kilometers from the Zengwen River estuary to the Erren River estuary. This coastal expanse is characterized by extensive shallow waters and vast intertidal zones, creating ideal conditions for aquaculture development.

Strategically positioned, our waters connect to the Penghu fishing grounds and the continental shelf, forming a central fishing hub in the waters extending from Taixi to Donggang. Anping Fishing Port, located within our jurisdiction, stands as one of Taiwan's most crucial fishing harbors. Its proximity to Penghu to the northwest, and its connections to Qieding, Zihguan, Yong'an, and Kaohsiung Port to the south, and Qigu, Qingkunshan, Mashagou, and Budai to the north, underscore its strategic importance.

The extensive coastline and its proximity to the Taiwan Strait provide a vast and fertile fishing ground, offering excellent natural conditions for offshore fisheries. Our marine oyster farming industry proudly ranks among the top three nationwide, while our expansive land-based aquaculture boasts a diverse array of species, including milkfish, Taiwanese tilapia, clams, and various other high-economic-value fish species.

Our association has a rich history, with its establishment dates back to the Japanese colonial period, in the 10th year of Showa Period (A.D. 1935). In 1955, it was reorganized and renamed the Tainan Fishermen's Association, and further renamed to Tainan City Fishermen's Association in 1976, a name it proudly bears to this day. With branch offices in Annan, Anping, and Sicao, we remain a vital institution for the fishing industry in the former Tainan metropolitan area.

CHOHO PIG: The Premium Pork You Deserve

Trusted high-quality domestic pork, reassuring and delicious with every bite!

For the pure joy of "eating with peace of mind," we have established the most rigorous and transparent process for premium pork production. With 40 years of expertise in animal nutrition and the dedication of over 100 livestock professionals, we scientifically raise pigs at "traceable farms." The meat is processed with low-temperature independent cutting, clean processing lines for raw and cooked products, and full cold chain storage and distribution. Our products have successfully passed multiple quality certification systems, ensuring both product safety and exceptional quality. We are committed to providing consumers with fresh, succulent, and naturally flavorful pork, and to developing prepared foods made with transparent ingredients and minimal additives. This dedication to clean and responsible food production has made us the first company in Taiwan to offer pork-based prepared meals certified with dual clean-label recognition.

CHOHO PIG places a strong emphasis on promoting low-carbon living and adheres to ESG principles for sustainable development. We are committed to environmentally friendly practices, public welfare, and educational programs. By focusing on our "Quality Eating" initiatives, we aim to foster a positive cycle, integrating farm-to-table processes to revolutionize Taiwan's agricultural landscape.

Fengyuans

| Local, Fresh, Safe, Healthy

Fengyuan Sheep Ranch is located in Tianwei Township, Changhua County. It owns more than 380 Nubian goats and grows its own non-toxic and pesticide-free grass, striving to raise high-quality goat meat for the public to eat.

Under the leadership of Ajian, the second generation of the ranch, Fengyuan Sheep Ranch has transformed from the breeding end to the sales end. Ajian said: In fact, the meat characteristics of each part of goat are different. Through professional cutting technology, the characteristics of each piece of goat meat are fully displayed, and the parts are selected for different eating methods, breaking the traditional thinking that goat can only be used as goat hot pot. It is integrated with Chinese and Western cooking methods, frying, roasting, stewing, and shabu-shabu, so that more people can know the high quality and deliciousness of Taiwanese goat.

| The best sheep house environment

Adopt high bed feeding design, use scientific management, create a ventilated and clean sheep house hardware environment to raise the healthiest sheep.

| The goodness of Taiwanese lamb

Goats raised in Taiwan can be roughly divided into the meat goats Nubian and Boer, and the dairy goats Alpine and Saanen breeds. Among them, the Nubian goat has a lower body fat ratio, tall body and short breeding period. It only needs to be raised for 10 to 12 months. It has better meat quality than other breeds and is moderately fat and lean. It has become the only breed that is auctioned independently in the domestic mutton auction market. It is also the breed with the highest auction price and is the highest grade goat among domestic mutton.

Domestic Nubian goat meat is sweet and fragrant, with the right amount of fat and lean meat, and absolutely no fishy smell. It is the best kind of mutton.

The goats raised at Fengyuan Sheep Ranch are the most suitable Nubian sheep breed for meat. Castration is started when the sheep weigh 25-30 kg and are about 4-5 months old, so the unpleasant sheep smell will not be produced.

RURAL GOOD PRODUCTS ZONE

Taiwan's rural communities are home to exceptional agricultural production, diverse cultural heritage, and rich ecological environments. Thanks to the dedication of rural artisans, the area offers a wide range of distinctive products.

The products in this zone are carefully selected through the "Rural Goods" initiative, which ensures that they meet stringent criteria: they must be made from locally sourced Taiwanese materials, produced in legally compliant environments, and adhere to health and safety standards, with proper packaging and labeling. This year, the zone features 12 businesses showcasing a variety of leisure foods, specialty beverages, ready-to-eat meals, and grains. Through the marketing and exposure of the "Rural Good products" brand, we aim to encourage rural communities to continue innovating and developing unique products while stimulating the local economy and showcasing the enduring vitality of Taiwan's rural areas.

YANSHUEI FARMERS' ASSOCIATION

Since its establishment in 1920, the YANSHUEI FARMERS' ASSOCIATION has continuously promoted the passing on of local agriculture and traditional industries. In 2006, the "Yanshuei Egg Noodle Workshop" was founded, insisting on the traditional sun-drying method for noodle production, which has become a local featured product. Starting in 2009, the association began purchasing fresh local tomatoes to produce "dried tomato."

Furthermore, through a collaboration with Kinmen Kaoliang Liquor Inc., the association has advanced kaoliang sorghum contract farming, launching "Yigu Zuoqi" (Contract Sorghum Kinmen Kaoliang Liquor) and "Mòqì X Spice Blood Duck Tofu." Recently, they developed Tomato Soft Q Candy, which incorporates dried fruit and is highly favored by younger demographics. Through innovative integration, the YANSHUEI FARMERS' ASSOCIATION enhances the value of agricultural products, passing down the local culture, and practices sustainable agriculture.

Golden Sweetness, The Incarnation of Golden Farmers

We are a group of descendants from farming families. We left our hometowns to embrace education in new technologies and cultures. Yet, amidst the pollution of highly civilized new cities, we constantly yearn for the agricultural landscapes that nurtured us as we grew up. We miss that golden glow that emerges when you peel back a steaming hot roasted sweet potato, the satisfying fullness under that sweet sensation.

And so, we gathered together, seeking out others who, like us, are descendants of farming families. Together, we have transformed into Golden Farmers, hoping to once again present that golden, sweet sense of happiness to the new generation of Taiwanese people, reminding them to never forget their roots.

FUNG GUO HONEY MANOR

FUNG GUO HONEY MANOR, rooted in the mountain town of Zhongliao, Nantou, carries over half a century of beekeeping wisdom. "Local, Natural, Sustainable" is what aspired us. Facing agricultural decline and environmental challenges, we promote the "Citrus Project," safeguarding the bees' home through eco-friendly farming. We advocate for "Protecting the Longan Forests," which are the lifelines of our bees and the roots of our land. Every drop of honey embodies the diligence of the bees, the sweat of the fruit farmers, and our steadfast commitment to the land. We invite you to savor this pure taste from Taiwan's mountains, and experience the land's richness and nature's vitality.

SENKANG FOOD CO., LTD.

Senkang Food Co., Ltd. is committed to providing high-quality functional nutritional supplements, innovating across both animal-based and plant-based nutrition to offer comprehensive health solutions. The company operates two major brands:

- CHICHICHOICE: Specializing in essence of chicken, fish, beef, seahorse, and gac fruit, ideal for daily nourishment, energy recovery, and post-surgical care.

- CHICHICHOICE Plant-Based Series: Designed for vegetarians and health-conscious consumers, offering plant essence G and fiber-rich soybean bars for plant-based protein supplementation.

Every Drop Matters – A Nurse's Commitment to Nutrition.

Founder Lin Ting-Yi and her family grew up in poultry and fish farming, personally experiencing the benefits of essence-based nutrition. Later, she and her two sisters became nurses, witnessing firsthand the essential role of proper nutrition in supporting patients, caregivers, and medical professionals. This realization led to the founding of CHICHICHOICE, combining traditional wellness formulas with clinical expertise to develop high-quality, easily absorbed functional supplements.

Building upon its foundation in animal-based nutritional supplementation, the company expanded into plant-based nutrition, collaborating with the Agricultural Research Institute Incubation Center to develop plant essence G, providing new options for vegetarians and health-focused consumers. In alignment with its commitment to sustainability, the company repurposes the byproduct of plant essence G extraction into fiber-enriched soybean bars, contributing to a circular economy and offering a broader range of nutritious products.

Upholding the philosophy of "One Drop, A Hundred Commitments," CHICHICHOICE continues to integrate scientific innovation with sustainability, delivering pure, effective nutritional solutions to consumers worldwide.
